

Alec Harrison

Teaching Artist-Instructor

Alec is a professional actor originally from the small town of Bardstown Kentucky. Due to growing up with a rare heart condition that left him ineligible to play sports with his peers at a young age, Alec found his love for the arts by watching television and movies in his spare time. He attended numerous drama camps and workshops as a child and knew that he wanted to pursue acting as a career when he graduated high school. In 2019 Alec attended Northern Kentucky University where he obtained his BFA in Theatre Performance with a focus in acting.

Throughout his college career, Alec was cast in multiple shows, student films, commercials, and spent a year performing in a Hip Hop dance group on campus called E.N.V.I. Since graduating Alec has found a new passion in educating and inspiring new generations of performers and has decided to relocate to the beautiful city of Atlanta Georgia to fulfill that passion while also continuing to pursue his acting endeavors full time.
