

Shannell Griggs

Teaching Artist-Instructor

Shannell Griggs holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications from Saint Peter's University, where she gained a solid understanding of effective communication strategies and techniques. Her education has equipped her with a comprehensive understanding of various communication mediums, including verbal, written, and visual communication, enabling her to provide valuable insights and guidance to her students in the field of acting. With a deep understanding of the stage and the art of performance, she is committed to empowering young individuals to express themselves authentically and confidently. Her goal is to foster creativity, imagination, and self-expression while developing essential life skills such as teamwork, public speaking, and problem-solving.
